ABOUT THE PROGRAM

The Global Governance Summer School (G2S2) is the inaugural academic program of the International College of Innovation at National Chengchi University. The G2S2 is a 6-week, intensive, certificate-granting seminar designed for graduate and post-graduate students from around the world who are potential leaders and considered young experts in their fields. The scope of the program is broad enough that students from a wide array of interests will find value in participating in the program but the focus on Asia along with global governance enables students to develop specific understanding of a critical region. By using a interdisciplinary curriculum, G2S2 invites lecturers with a variety of backgrounds, such as retired government officials & ambassadors, global governance experts, distinguished scholars & professors, top-performing enterprise leaders and more to give students multiple learning components.
